

PRESS RELEASE (19/04/2018) (Afrikaans regonder)

LIBERALS IGNORE REALITY - CDP

The Christian Democratic Party (CDP) reacted to statements made by Francine Higham, leader of the DA Abroad, by saying "that they are not only naive but border on ignorance".

According to her, the brutal torture and murders of predominantly white farmers and their families are merely a part of the cycle of violent crimes affecting all South Africans. She had obviously not seen the gruesome photos taken at the aftermath of these farm attacks. If she had she must be quite callous to call them part of a normal cycle of crime. This also renders hollow her statement that the DA has been putting pressure on the South African government to prioritise rural safety - something they must have been doing in secret and obviously without success.

To call recent protests in Australia and Belgium, drawing attention to these farm murders, "misinformed and untrue narrative"; and calls by Australian senators to consider a special intake of white farmers from South Africa "discriminatory"; clearly shows where her priorities lie.

Her liberal obsession with building an inclusive and non-racial society in South Africa has blinded her to the plight of a minority being discriminated against on a daily basis by the government's AA, BEE and quota policies and who are increasingly being victimized and now even threatened with having their land stolen from them, not only without compensation, but without legal recourse.

LIBERALE IGNOREER REALITEITE - CDP

Die Christen Demokratiese Party (CDP) se reaksie op die uitsprake van Francine Higham, leier van DA Abroad kan in een sin opgesom word: "Dit is nie slegs naief nie, maar grens tewens aan onkunde".

Volgens Higham is die brutale marteling en moorde op oorwegend wit boere en hul gesinne maar slegs n deel van die "sirkel van geweldadige misdaad" wat alle Suid-Afrikaners raak. Sy het duidelik nie die grusame foto's wat na die betrokke plaasaanvalle geneem is, gesien nie. As sy dit wel gesien het, moet sy redelik gevoelloos wees om dit met die gewone sirkel van misdaad te vergelyk. Haar stelling dat die DA druk op die SA regering uitoefen om landelike veiligheid te prioritiseer, lyk in die lig hiervan betekenisloos en sonder dryfkrag. Soos dit vir ons lyk, moes sodanige DA druk in die geheim geskied het en duidelik uiters onsuksesvol was!

Om die onlangse protes in Australie en Belgie wat die aandag op plaasaanvalle en moorde vestig "oningelig en onwaar" te noem en die oproepe van Australiese senatore om die vestiging van wit SA boere in die land voorkeurbehandeling te gee as "diskriminasie" te beskryf, toon duidelik waar haar prioriteite gesetel is.

Higham se liberale obsessie om n inklusiewe en nie-rassige gemeenskap in SA te skep, verblind haar oordeel vir die nood van van n minderheidsgroep waarteen op n daaglikse grondslag diskrimineer word deur middel van die regering se beleidsrigtings van regstellende aksie, swart ekonomiese bemagtiging (BEE) en n kwotastelsel. Hierdie genoemde aksies dreig nou om toenemend selfs so ver te gaan as om hulle grond sonder vergoeding te steel en sonder dat hulle hule op regssoorsig kan beroep.
