

MEDIA RELEASE
by CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATIC PARTY (CDP)

9 APRIL 2013

Appointment of judges: Ambush settlement?

“Rumours regarding resistance to the further appointment of white judges because, amongst other reasons given, they allegedly do not understand the South African context, is not only absolute nonsense but once again smacks of blatant racism,” says Christian Democratic Party (CDP) leader, Rev. Theunis Botha.

“This and similar demands is yet another default of the original settlement on which the constitution is based. This is reminiscent of the settlement which resulted in the death of Piet Retief and his men.

“The CDP again calls on all to work together to rebuild the country, where each person is allowed to use his talents and training, to best serve the country and all its people.”

Theunis Botha, 083 6572 482

Aanstelling van regters: Hinderlaagskikking

“Gerugte oor weerstand teen die verdere aanstelling van wit regters omdat hulle, onder andere nie die Suid-Afrikaanse konteks sou verstaan nie, is nie net volslae twak nie maar ook blatante rassisme,” sê ds. Theunis Botha, leier van die Christen-Demokratiese Party (CDP).

“Hierdie, en soortgelyke stemme dui op swakhede in die oorspronklike skikking waarop die grondwet geskoei is. Dit klink al hoe meer van ‘n lokvalskikking wat ooreenkomste toon met die lot van Piet Retief en sy manne.

“Die CDP doen opnuut ‘n beroep op almal om saam te werk om die land te herbou na ‘n land waar elkeen toegelaat word om volgens sy talente en opleiding die land en al sy mense die beste te dien.”